Hi There!

Remember me? I'm Herbie

Howe. I go

with you to the youngest high school in

Indianapolis,

Indiana. In this

third HILLTOPPER

we'll relive a busy year

together.

THE 1943

Hilltopper

... with my help

records a year in which

Howeites and teachers

packed each day full of war

services,

special

studies, the usual

3 R's, and plenty of

THOMAS CARR HOWE HIGH SCHOOL

From September to June, from entrance to tower...

... I take you through Howe and a Howe year, but a year made different by the war. When I returned to school in the fall, I found each department shaping its training to meet war needs. Yes, from September to June, from entrance to tower, changes were being made. Then one day at assembly Principal C. M. Sharp introduced the Victory Council: Clyde Johnson, Oscar Mutz, Joan Bruckman, Eugene O'Hern, Joe Weaver, Patty Bettcher, Bob Bowles, Margaret Rennoe, Marjorie Harvey, and Ellen Kroll. The picture on the opposite page shows this representative body planning wartime activities for the school.

Mr. DeWitt S. Morgan has said, "War to the schools means what it means everywhere—regular service must go on, PLUS." I don't believe I could say it any better than did our Superintendent of Schools.

Well, on to the Howe of 1942-43.

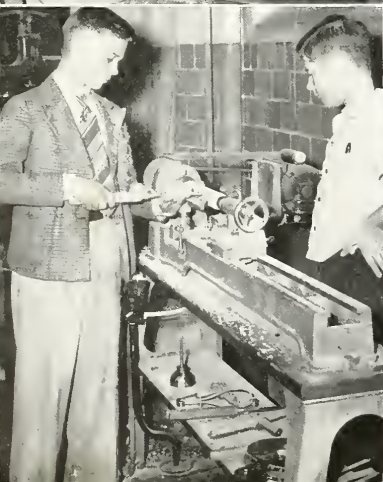

From September to June
(1942 Commencement),
from entrance to tower.

Howe is all-out for Victory

"Arms out, feet apart; bend left, bend right." This goes on day in and day out. Boy! Was I ever stiff for the first couple of weeks. Everyone in class discovered a few thousand previously unknown muscles. It surely is the hard way to study the different parts of your anatomy. However, these exercises are planned to make us physically fit, and no joke, I think I'm developing hard muscles. And Helen, that's my A-1 gal, says that my shoulders are "inches" broader. . . . Woodshop is fun. These shop courses are devised to make Howe boys skillful. . . . The posters in the Art Department picture speak for themselves.

I took aeronautics so I could get an idea of why airplanes do what they do. There's just something about the unexplored sky that fascinates me. . . . In woodshop we made 100 model airplanes for the Government. . . . Well, coming down to earth, did you ever see such a good-looking nurse and patient as those in the upper right corner? . . . Right below these two Florence Nightingales is a shot of the typing room. Taking care of those beautiful, unobtainable typewriters is important.

During the air raid drills, which are intended to prepare us students for an emergency, I serve as a special guard on the lower floor. We guards, with the help of the floor supervisor, do a pretty good job of getting 1,300 Howeites in the right places at the right time. . . . Helen and the rest of the Home Ec girls have learned to can the products of our victory gardens. . . . The boys in machine shop are learning about defense, too. Take it from me, some of them could show Lockheed a thing or two.

The publications staffs learned the facts of rationing one day last fall when Mrs. Thistle Pretzinger of the local board came to Howe and asked our aid in preparing fuel oil ration coupons. . . . Our pledge of allegiance before each assembly is a patriotic touch which every Howeite observes in a dignified manner. (When this picture was taken I was standing right next to my pal, Pesut. Just my luck to be out of the picture.) . . . The last snap shows our loyal freshmen doing their share to increase Howe's war stamp purchases.

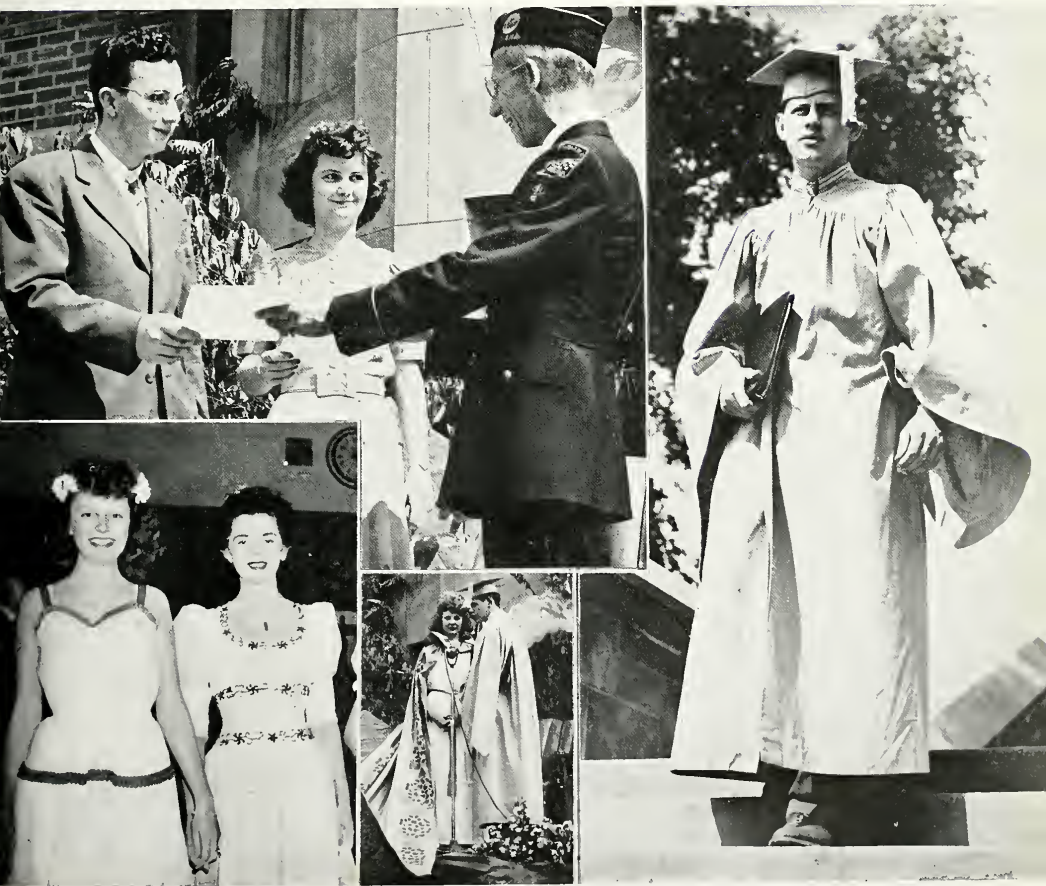

Almost any old article you could dig up could be contributed to some sort of a salvage drive. Some of my friends on the TOWER and HILLTOPPER staffs are in the top picture salvaging metal from old engravings. I helped in this drive and Helen pushed the glamour salvage for old lipsticks, compacts, and hose. Mom had some old stockings which I contributed. Time was that if I'd pulled old stockings out of my pockets in the hall, the fellows would have called me "Powder Puff" Howe for weeks—but times have changed. . . . Mr. Wade Fuller is the man to see about employment. Of course since I am eighteen I have a pretty fair idea of what my future is to be. However, he found Helen a dandy job.

But Howeites still find time for fun

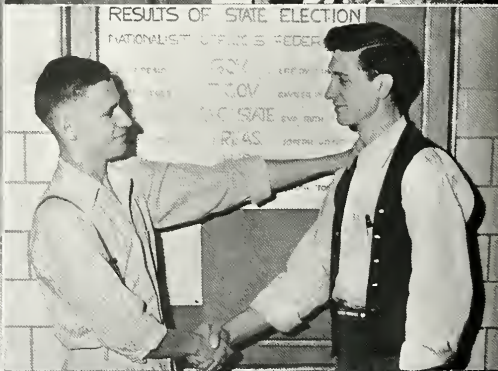

My, how I wish I could have been under Phil Lasley's mortarboard when he crowned Doris Reisner as Violet Queen at the fourth birthday pageant in May. She looked mighty smooth surrounded by Eva Ruth Ham, Maxine Dietz, Martha Payne, and Betty Lou Roth, the members of her court. We were really proud of Marjorie Harvey and Joe Weaver, the winners of the American Legion citizenship awards which are presented annually at the pageant. During the Parade of Achievement I carried a sign labeled LATIN. Going up the steps, I was so interested in the demonstrations on the front lawn that I tripped and fell. Mother, who had come to watch, called out, "Herbie, are you hurt?" Boy, was I embarrassed!

Pictures from annual birthday celebration of ground breaking on May 28, 1937.

In festive garb the jived-out Howeites leave for home (eventually) after the spring semi-formal dance. Helen and I had another swell time at the third Brown and Gold Dance this fall. Helen looked sharp as a tack, but when Golden Girl Marjorie Harvey walked on the stage—well—. Rudely interrupting my reverie, Helen whispered, "After all, Herbie, Bill Hanafree is Brown Boy, not you." . . . I thought about running for governor in our mock election this fall, but I decided to let Leroy Owen, Federalist, and "Lil Joe" Pesut, Nationalist, fight it out. P. S. Leroy won. . . . We fellows in the Hi-Y Club sponsored our first Heart Hop this year with a sweetheart 'n' everything. We picked Marjorie Harvey, Mary Beth Underwood, Kitty Lewis, Martha Payne, and Helen Thompson, as candidates, and Mary Beth was chosen.

UPPER RIGHT—Marjorie Harvey and Bill Hanafree.
MIDDLE RIGHT—Joe Pesut and Leroy Owen.

Typical scenes in Herbie's life during Howe's fifth year.

Heaven! Two hundred girls and me at an afternoon dance and party. Sure, I know they're all girls' parties, but I can dream, can't I? I do all right at the afternoon hops, what with Helen, plenty of hot records, and three or four sacks of that luscious Vihota popcorn. By the end of the dance, I'm dry like an encyclopedia and I start looking for a drink. The fountains aren't hard to find. Just look for a bunch of gabbing Howeites, and there it is. Of course you still have to get a drink. . . . Lockers are another place to flap your trap before, after, and between classes, or any old time.

Herbie goes to teachers' meeting

Meet the "Big Three": Mr. Clarence R. Clayton, vice principal; Miss Florence Guild, head of the English Department and senior sponsor; and Mr. Charles M. Sharp, principal. When these three put their heads together the subjects under discussion range from assignments and assemblies to report cards and statistics.

Helen can tell you more about Mrs. Mildred D. Loew, the Dean of Girls, who has a friendly word for Howe boys as well as girls.

The women teachers around Howe are grand, and the men teachers are really swell guys. Of course, this is sort of hard on the "blame it on the teacher" type of pupil, but that kind of a student is a jerk anyway.

Nine of the teachers are now in the armed service, and it has been hard to keep up with all the faculty changes. The teachers who came in January are shown in the small picture, while the rest of the faculty is pictured at teachers' meeting. At the Wednesday meetings discussions of school problems, policies, and "What has Herbie Howe done now?" are in order.

SECOND ROW—Miss Ruth Zitzlaff, English; Miss Eva Abbott, home ec; Miss Hazel Wurstler, Spanish; Miss Helen Allen, Miss Marthellen Ratcliff, home ec; Mr. Kenneth Smartz, English; Mr. W. D. Leasor, drafting.

First are the seniors—

The Seniors put on quite a play this year. Yes, indeed, "June Mad" was really something and that something was gay, romantic, and funny. Penny Wood did a lot of growing up in those three acts, and she did it in a very surprising fashion. As assistant director and chief property man, I feel that I have enough theatrical background to state that it is my authoritative opinion that any one of the actors could easily compete with Skinner, the Barrymores, and the Lunts. Of course, the fact that back stage work was done efficiently, contributes to their success. Anyway every person connected with the play was thrilled with the reception it received from the students.

"All hail Howe High"

—Here I am four years ago—just a befuddled freshie. However, it doesn't take long to learn. By now our January freshmen are old-timers. Not long ago I tried to sell a freshie some elevator tickets, and he ended up selling me a special privilege pass into the office. When I attempted to use it, Miss Childers laughed and said, "Herbie Howe, I'm ashamed of your letting a freshman fool you like that." Upperclassmen, take warning!

Activities

Herbie (B. M. O. C.) Howe belongs to many clubs.

Junior Red Cross serves by sewing

My girl friend, Helen, is certainly a whizz at this Red Cross work. She joined the Junior Red Cross, which is a high school contingent of the famous Red Cross, when it was organized two years ago. She and the other members meet every Tuesday afternoon after school to sew for the National Red Cross. The officers of the club are Lucile Rennard, president; Mildred Marshall, vice president; June Hollis, secretary; and Mariann Gropp, treasurer. Eight dozen ditty bags, six dozen cushion covers, forty-two bed jackets, and six dozen bedroom slippers have been completed by the organization with the help of Miss Marthellen Ratcliff's clothing classes. All spring Helen and these other girls have been busy crocheting pieces of wool scraps together to make an afghan. My contribution to the wool scrap drive was an old blue vest. Miss Helen Allen is sponsor.

Fun behind the footlights

Not many students other than the members of the Footlight Revelers Club realize what a job our sponsor, Mr. Darrell Gooch, and I have putting on such good plays. For instance, this play, "On the Night of January 16," required four weeks of practice. Both Mr. Gooch and I agree that the actors and the backstage workers did a fine job. Did you notice the division page for this Activities Section? It shows Patricia Stutz blackening Eleanor Williamson's face for her part as a colored gal in the play, while Don Masters, who was the judge in the trial, looks on.

Our officers for this year are Joe Weaver, president; Patricia Stutz, vice president; Dick Newcomer, treasurer; Eva Ruth Ham, secretary; and Marion Mutz, historian.

Hi-Y boys keep Service File

The Hi-Y Club engages in such worthwhile activities as compiling a Service File of the addresses of Howe boys in service and collecting Howe Towers to be sent to these boys. "Clean speech, clean sports, clean scholarship, and clean living" is the creed by which we Hi-Y boys live. Attending a Hi-Y dance at the Y. M. C. A. is a pleasure I enjoy every month. We Hi-Y's also had a lot of fun sponsoring the "Heart Hop." Mr. Virgil Heniser is sponsor.

Horizon girls sponsor glamour salvage

Helen was one of the most ardent collectors during the silk and glamour salvage campaign, sponsored by the Horizon Club, senior Campfire Girls organization. Although she put many old lipstick containers, compacts, and silk hose in the boxes they had decorated and placed outside the office, she is still glamorous enough for me. The girls also collected toys which could be made over for poor children at Christmas. At the last meeting of the Childcare course, Helen and her club members presented a play, the "Angels." Mrs. Paul B. Clark is sponsor.

Movies are fun

The intricacies of the film projector do not mystify me and the other members of the Audio Visual Club, for we are instructed in the mechanics of the projector as well as in its operation. Because of a possible man shortage we invited girls to join our club. Of course, Helen was our first recruit. Mr. Raphael Wolfe is sponsor.

Howe's librarians reign in 127

Every day is library day at Howe, and Helen and the other members of the Library Club are always on hand to answer "Information Please" queries. The girls shelve, catalogue, and repair the older books and prepare new books for circulation. Miss Marthanna McWhir was sponsor during the fall semester and Miss Betty Reed in the spring.

Hi-Tri's have a busy year

The Girl Reserves have had a busy year sponsoring the glamour salvage campaign with the Horizon Club, collecting materials for a recreation room at the Japanese Relocation Center in Arkansas, and making scrapbooks for the U. S. O. canteens in Indianapolis. Miss Malvin Morton of the Y. W. C. A. is sponsor.

Language and literature are life

At our Latin Club meetings we learn about the customs of the people when Cicero was a kid. Don't get the idea that someone gets up and reads Roman history to us from a book for three-quarters of an hour every week. We learn by actual practice. The Romans used to celebrate their Saturnalia at Christmas time and now every year our club celebrates this Roman holiday with a banquet. But you must be a well-dressed Roman before you will be admitted. The proper attire is a long white toga, but a reasonable facsimile in the form of a sheet and a few well-placed safety pins is satisfactory. Thus we spend an afternoon lounging, eating, and talking like the Romans. Miss Thelma Cooley is sponsor.

Two other activities which we sponsor are the monthly Latin newspaper, Cornu Latinum, published by members of Miss Narcie Pollitt's advanced Latin classes, and a clinic of club members, who aid pupils like me.

Si, si senorita

Instead of being a Roman lady Helen turned Spanish on me. Although I'm a Latin through and through I have to admit that she makes a wow of a Spanish senorita. This club at Christmas celebrates the Posada, following as accurately as possible the Spanish customs, such as the breaking of the Pinata, which is a clay jar filled with gifts. Helen says that the club activities aid her in the study of the language because they give her an insight into its background. Miss Mary Elizabeth Thumma, sponsor.

Howe's Violets

U—m, look at the girls! Oh, well—back to business. Even though the membership of the Vihota Club is restricted to junior girls, the activities of this organization affect even me. Without the Vihotas I wouldn't be able to eat ice cream, candy, and popcorn at the home basketball games because these delicacies are sold under the sponsorship of this club. To make a good thing even better the money I pay for my ice cream goes to buy some worthwhile article for the school. Already these ambitious violets have bought furniture for the Dean of Girls' Office, the popcorn machine, and war bonds. However, the club is not only worthy of an E for efficiency but socially it has also been more than successful. Besides the all-girl dances and assemblies, the girls give all-school social affairs. Perhaps the most notable contribution from the Vihotas, however, is the Violet Queen, who reigns each year at the Birthday Pageant. Mrs. Mildred Loew, sponsor.

In the top of the Tower

Even before the 1942 HILLTOPPERS were in the hands of the students, we were already making plans for the yearbook of '43. Our staff had quite a high standard set up for it by the 1942 yearbook, which received All-American Standing by the National Scholastic Press Association. Cartoonist Pesut drew some pictures of me representing my many activities, Editor Woerner and Associate Editor Kroll organized the staff, Sponsor Mrs. Ruth Marie Griggs thought up gigantic lists of things to do, and the rest of us did our best to keep up.

Then came fall. Our first problem was finance. However, the Staff's business agents directed by Business Manager Joe Weaver solved this problem by selling nearly 1,200 books. Supplementing this were the profits from the Stardust Ball and the Brown and Gold Dance.

The autumn season could be called the great picture-taking period for our staff photographers, Bob Stitt and Jim Bayly, together with Mr. Charles Porter and Mr. Sam Pidgeon, provided us with shots of everything and everyone at Howe. Under the supervision of Picture Editor Dorothy Ray, the pictures were taken. Bill Woods mounted the prints with his trio of feminine assistants, Jane Clark, Thelma Ellis, and Virginia Reese, and sent them to the engravers.

Each of the individual sections had to be carefully planned. The management of the class section fell to Lucile Rennard, Homeroom Editor, and Natalie Borreson, Senior Editor, while Ruthanne Gossom and Marjorie Metcalf struggled over the club and activities sections respectively. Bob Reed and Bob Bowles directed all their attention to the sports division, and Associate Editor, Ellen Kroll, tackled the introductory pages. In January several seniors left the staff and Mary Frances Patterson and Jack Rennoe were added.

February was a month of mixups. Everyone was doing everything all at once. In fact by the middle of this month we were in a muddle. However, we finally finished and the completed dummy was sent to the printer in March. In early spring he sent us 1,200 copies of the 1943 HILLTOPPER which we now pass on to you.

Deadlines in a daze

Before Bob Woerner had decided that I would be indispensable on the staff of the '43 HILLTOPPER, I had been doing some special reporting for Editors Harvey and Johnson of the HOWE TOWER. Every other Monday one of their staffs starts to work on a new issue of the bi-weekly paper. I spent Mondays and Tuesdays covering my beat, writing whatever news stories seemed promising, thinking up clever features, collecting items for my column, and planning photographs and cartoons.

On Thursday, deadline night, the Tower was packed with staff members checking their stories and writing last-minute copy. The atmosphere literally seethed with excitement as the typewriters pounded and bursts of laughter and grief alternately flooded the room. Before leaving for home we page editors collected all the articles which were to appear on our respective pages and arranged them in an attractive layout.

The printer sent the proofs to us on the following Tuesday in order that the proofreaders could check for typographical errors. The printed articles were pasted on the layout sheets, which were then sent back to the printer.

When the TOWERS were distributed to the students on Friday, I am certain that my feeling of satisfaction in the finished paper was representative of the feeling of every staff member. Besides there is that unique feeling of pride which comes from seeing your own articles in print.

They put Howe in the limelight

Making Indianapolis "Howe conscious" is the objective of the nine students who constitute the News Bureau. Our activities, including athletic events, plays, and dances, are publicized in the daily papers through the efforts of these correspondents. In February Jean E. Carpenter was added to the staff of the News Bureau as a correspondent to the IRVINGTON REVIEW, and Phil Lasley took Bob Reed's place for the TIMES.

Sometimes accompanying the articles of the News Bureau are pictures taken by our student photographers. Members of the photo staff also provide the HOWE TOWER with pictorial versions of the main stories. Taking pictures is not just a snap of the shutter as I found out last winter when I tried to take a snapshot of Helen. In fact when my attempt was developed, it was so unlike the subject that I was really afraid to show it to her. However, I had Bob Stitt take a candid shot of Helen which I presented to her. That's when she decided to be my steady.

In my freshman and sophomore years, I was a representative from my English class to the Cub Club. I am not eligible for membership now because it is strictly an underclassman organization. During the fall semester Ellen Aldag and Mary Frances Patterson, Cub Editors on the HOWE TOWER, sponsored the club and in the spring Donna Flowers and Doris Mayer took over.

In the upper right-hand corner, I present our sponsor, Mrs. Ruth Marie Griggs. Instead of listing all her responsibilities, attempting to enumerate her many tasks, and using ten-letter words to describe our appreciation of her guidance, I find that it is sufficient to say that there is but one Mrs. Griggs and no one else could take her place among us.

Fingers fly on fiddles . . .

The thirty-seven members of the orchestra, whether giving a public performance or playing for the students at the annual Christmas assembly, always present a pleasant program. Playing "Pomp and Circumstance," the orchestra added dignity to commencement last June. Every spring this group shares honors with the other musical organizations in the annual May Music Festival. When I was a freshman, I contemplated being a violinist, but after a few unsuccessful lessons I decided to divert my attention to my sax.

The string ensemble is a small group of talented students known for their ability by many organizations before which they have performed. Last fall Helen and her 'cello joined the group. During the winter months the ensemble played for a Christmas Community Sing at School 57, for a dinner of the Indiana School Superintendents Association, and over radio station WISH on the High School Hour. Now and then I complain about having to drag Helen's 'cello home, but I really am proud of the way she plays. My parents have enjoyed the special numbers of this group at several meetings of the Men's Four Hundred Club and the P.T. A.

... and the band plays on

The band has been at its best this year. Of course, the fact that I and my saxophone have recently joined this organization might be coincidental. However, I am completely unprejudiced when I admit that we band members give a very impressive performance in our V for victory formation.

With a flash of silver batons and a twirl of white skirts our drum majorettes with sparkling eyes entered the Howe auditorium for the first time last spring. Remember how hard the girls worked to perfect their routines and what a rush there was to complete the uniforms for the all-important Shortridge game last year? Those frosty white outfits shining with gold braid are really something, but when the girls start to twirl their batons, I swell with pride.

Howe harmonizes

Our choir, which has a membership of approximately seventy students, is the chief vocal organization of our school. Before a pupil may become a member he is required to pass a voice test; consequently our choir is composed of only the best vocalists at Howe.

With the help of the P.T. A. we choir members were able to secure robes. When we sang for organizations outside Howe, the money allotted us for transportation went into the choir robe fund, and we paid for our own transportation.

Howe is about drained of firsts, but we students in the choir have in the past year not only purchased our first robes, but have also sponsored our first dance, the Harmony Hoedown. We used the money from this dance to buy music for assemblies and special programs.

This year the choir has had a definite patriotic trend, and although we do not neglect Bach, we have included in our repertoire songs, such as "He Wears a Pair of Silver Wings" and "White Christmas."

The officers, who were elected by the choir in the fall, are Bill Magnuson, president; Dick Moody, vice president; Bob Warden, secretary; Mary Beth Underwood, treasurer; and Herbie Howe, sergeant-at-arms.

Besides singing in the choir, fourteen of us, who have unusual ability, belong to the boys and girls vocal ensembles. Mr. Frank S. Watkins has been director of the choir for three years.

Talent in Revue

Through the combined efforts of Mr. Darrell Gooch, Mr. Beldon C. Leonard, Mr. Frank S. Watkins, Miss Marjorie White and a number of Howe students, the Pleasant Run Revue was presented on March 11 and 12. Our modern dance band could really jive up when Director All Weiscopef gave the down beat. The songs and the dances in the first act were typical of those popular when my Dad was a kid. In fact Dad and Mother both got such a kick out of them that they talked about the Revue for a week.

Next came a second act full of the music of my childhood. From the features of this act I would say that my childhood was very sweet indeed. I nearly fell off my chair when Helen came out on the stage with her accordion 'cause she looked so beautiful. However, I succeeded in doing no more than hitting a B instead of a B flat, for which I received a very disgusted look from Director Weiscopef.

The last act was a rare mixture of sweetheart songs and jive music which is typical of today. Everyone was humming the "Pleasant Run Revue" for weeks. Looks like Mr. Leonard, who wrote the opening and closing music, struck the key-note.

Athletics

Howe athletes conquer all

The 1942-43 season was the most successful, athletically speaking, in our school's five-year history. During the year we won the City Track Championship, defended our Sectional Track Title, won the Tech Invitational Golf Tourney, and were the runner-up team in the Sectional Basketball Tourney.

All these sports were under the management of our capable coaching staff composed of Mr. Lewis W. Gilfoy, varsity basketball coach; Mr. Samuel T. Kelley, varsity track and cross-country coach; Mr. Ray Bowman, freshman basketball and track coach; and Mr. Fred C. Lemley, golf coach. Mr. Kelley took over the duties of Mr. George P. Farkas, athletic director and coach, when the latter entered the navy in January.

Before Chief Petty Officer Farkas joined the fleet, his Hornets thinlins won the 1942 City Track Championship, thus becoming the first city school to defeat Tech since the meet's inauguration in 1934. In conquering the former champions, Howe took five first places and scored in every event except the half-mile run for a total of 65½ points. Our blue ribbons were won in the 100-yard dash, 220-yard dash, low hurdles, high hurdles, and shot put. The Green and White had to be contented with a second-place tie with Washington, each team tallying 53½ markers. High scorers and only double winners of the meet were Ralph Toney, who won both dashes, and Art Graham, who took both hurdles, each with twelve points. Dick Eichenauer heaved the shot put for our other first place.

In defending our sectional crown at Washington's West Side track, our Hornets again captured five first place honors and scored a total of 43½ points, 11 more than Washington, the runner-up.

Six of our boys qualified for the state finals by taking a first or second place in one of the individual events at Washington. Those representing us at the state meet were Ralph Toney, dashman; Art Alexander, half-miler; Walter Gilchrist and Art Graham, hurdlers; Jim Wade, high jumper; and Dave Phelps, pole vaulter. Art Graham captured the first state medal ever won by a Howe athlete when he scored our only point in this meet by taking a fifth in the low hurdles.

Besides our outstanding achievements in the City and Sectional meets, we won eight dual and triangular contests without a defeat and climaxed the season by beating Bloomington, Southern Conference Champions, 59 to 50. Bloomington had been undefeated until that time.

Ralph Toney was high in individual scoring for the season with 78½ points. Right behind him was Alan Crapo with 72. Other runners who scored 40 or more points for the season were Art Graham, 60¼; Art Alexander, 42½; and Bob Banks, 40.

Hornets on the hardwood

We Hornets finished our 1942-43 basketball season with the throttle wide open, racking up 14 straight triumphs before being defeated in the final game of the Indianapolis Sectional Basketball Tourney.

By annexing the last eleven tilts of the regularly scheduled season and capturing the first three engagements in the Sectional, we compiled this longest winning streak in the history of our school. We also eclipsed any previous record of a Howe Basketball team when we finished the season with 18 victories in 22 starts.

Jack Buchanan, Hornet guard, cracked the old individual scoring record for one season when he swished a total of 198 points through the nets. The previous mark was 170 points, made by Bob Collins two years ago. Following Buchanan in team scoring was Bob Houck, who also passed Collins' mark with 179 points, and Jerry Pfeiffer, who garnered 169 markers.

Our team's four losses during the year were at the hands of Tech, Washington, Greenfield, and Lawrence Central and were all by four points or less. We later beat Tech in the Sectionals and avenged our defeat from Washington when we won a return tilt with them in an overtime. We also beat the Continentals in the Sectional. Our loss to Lawrence Central in the Sectional came after we had beaten the Bears 42-29 during the regularly scheduled season. Greenfield, Anderson Regional Champ, was the only team we played which we did not manage to sting at least once this season.

Gilfoy's cagers go to Sectional finals

In the 1943 Sectionals our team rode clear through to the finish before dropping the final game to Lawrence Central, the 1942 Sectional champs. In reaching the finals we eliminated Decatur Central, Washington, and Tech, these last two tilts being by one-point margins.

Our first game was with Decatur Central Friday morning, and we completely outplayed the Hawks the first half to build up a 20-5 advantage. Coach Gilfoy substituted frequently during the second half, and we coasted in to finish on top of a 34-23 count.

A half-time pep talk by our coach, Mr. Gilfoy, was necessary before we Hornets came to life to down Washington in the evening game. The Continentals ran up an early lead and steadily increased it to a 15-4 margin at the half. However, we pulled up on even terms after trailing most of the third quarter and Dick Whallon put in the winning two-pointer with eight seconds left in the game to give us a 28-to-27 decision.

Our match with Tech the next afternoon was really the climax of our entire season. The Big Green had entered the tournament as strong favorites and had been rated by some sports writers as a threat to the State Championship. The match was a ding-dong affair in which the lead changed hands frequently, but we took over with about two minutes to go and held on until the final gun for a 32-31 victory.

Lawrence Central had a little too much height for us in the final game and used it to good advantage, Pete Negley and Ed Lane controlling both backboards. The Bears were hot and started the game by hitting six of their first seven shots, ending the quarter with a phenomenal .500 shooting average. We made a battle of the entire contest, however, and managed to stay within striking distance most of the time, finishing on the low end of a 42-39 score.

Reserves and freshmen carry on

Our reserve cagers ended the season right behind the varsity, with 13 wins and 5 losses. After losing three of their first five starts our boys found their stride and captured ten of their next twelve engagements.

Bob Banks garnered a total of 97 points to lead the team in scoring, followed by Frank Fleener with 66 points and Ralph Weber with 52 points.

The season record was:

Green and fairway

Socking a little white ball all over the landscape and trying to hit a hole in the ground with it had never been my idea of fun, but after watching our team practicing I, too, was bitten with the bug and Mr. Lemley, our coach, says I make a really good caddy.

Our linksmen finished their season victorious in seven of eight starts, their record including two 11-4 wins over Shortridge and a $10\frac{1}{2}$ - $7\frac{1}{2}$ defeat of Teach. We also captured the Tech Invitational Golf Tourney from Shortridge (337 strokes to 361) in a playoff after a tie finish at 345. Joe Wilson made the 18 holes in a sizzling 74 in the final game.

In addition to these wins we won from Southport 7-5 and beat Lawrence Central and Southport in a triangular meet $9\frac{1}{2}$ - $2\frac{1}{2}$ and $10\frac{1}{2}$ - $7\frac{1}{2}$, respectively. Our only defeat of the season was at the hands of Bloomington, 9-3. We also finished fourth in the La Porte Invitational with a team score of 358. Bill Hanalee was low medalist for the season.

O'er hill and dale

I saw some of the cross-country boys in practice one fall day and their easy stride as they covered the course excited a sudden urge in me to try for the team. I soon found out that covering our mile and eight-tenths course at any thing but a walk was really quite a task so I went in search of something a trifle easier on my wind.

Even without my help our team managed to make quite a successful showing, winning all but two of their regularly scheduled meets and placing third in the Howe Invitational following Tech and Manual to the finish line. The Greenclad thin-lies packed too much punch and finished way ahead of the field with 36 points. Manual scored 47 points and we garnered 50 points. Phil Lasley and Bob Banks received individual medals for placing in the first ten.

Our season record of five wins and two defeats bettered any previous record of a Howe cross-country squad.

The complete season record follows:

Howe 21	Southport 34
Howe 34	Technical 21
Howe 24	Warren Central 31
Howe 26	Ben Davis 29
Howe 24	Lawrence Central 31
Howe 24	Washington 31

Sport a la femme

While I'm practicing basketball or track, my girl friend, Helen, participates in sports with the Girls' Athletic Association. She really has gone all-out in the national physical fitness program.

Last fall while the weather was still favorable the girls practiced archery under the instruction of their sponsor, Miss Marjorie White. Then came the volley ball season. Teams were organized and a tournament planned. Every Monday and Friday practice games were held in the girls' gym. I was a little disappointed because Helen wasn't elected captain of her team again this year, but she's a member of the best team anyway.

In the spring a girls' ping-pong tourney was begun and games were played after school. Helen was on top of a pyramid the girls made as one of their tumbling stunts, and was also on a basketball team. During the warm weather, Helen played second base on one of the softball teams and went out for track in a big way.

When Helen first wanted to join the G. A. A., she had to earn fifty points by participating in a sport once a week for six weeks before she could become a full-fledged member. Last fall at an assembly program she and 10 other girls received their first award, and 4 received the second award, showing that they had earned one hundred or more points. Now she's working on her second award.

I'll really have to work hard to keep up with "these women."

Goodbye Now!

A last page is supposed to wind up things, but I haven't even begun to tell you everything I could. It's all those little happenings that make Howe what it is. It's the kids hurrying to fifth hour lunch, it's the fun we have at basketball games, it's the moron jokes everyone tells, it's walking down the halls with your best girl, it's something that you can't see or hear, you just feel it.

We seniors will take that intangible something with us when we leave this June. Four years can give you a lot of memories if you are working in a defense factory, going to college, or serving in the armed forces. Helen was low a couple of weeks ago because as soon as I graduate I will become Private Herbie Howe. I tried to cheer her up by giving her my class pin and telling her that—but why am I telling you what I told her?

Well, kids, we "dood it"—the HILLTOPPER staff, Mrs. Griggs, and I. This 1943 yearbook is now yours. By the way, take care of your copy because in a few years when we seniors become famous it will be priceless. So long.
